Choctaw Kid 1: What a nice day!!

Choctaw Kid 2: Yeah! It's spring now...

(Choctaw Kid 2 praises the weather)

Choctaw Kid 1: Let's go to the Choctaw River to bath and swim.

(Choctaw Kid 1 says it in a calm and a dramatic voice)

Choctaw Kid 2: Yeah... If we can only swim.

Choctaw Kid 1: While the adults are swimming in the deep water, let's just waddle in the shallow water.

Choctaw Kid 2: Sure...

Narrator 1: So the poor kids went down the river. It was already filled with town people.

Choctaw Kid 1: Ewww... Look! There is the grumpy dude!

Choctaw Kid 2: . . . Oh my god. That. Guy. Is. Crazy. (Say word by word) Like the last time I saw him, he was screaming at a mouse who blocked his way.

(Choctaw Kid 2 act like really angry)

Choctaw Kid 1: Whatever! Let's just go and jump in!

Narrator 1: So the kids jumped in, and OBVIOUSLY they didn't see, the deadly vine. Later in the week, people started showing weird symptoms, such as vomiting and fainting. People shouted for help however no one heard it but the sick people.

Choctaw People: ARGH!! He eee lp.... I'm dying....

Narrator 1: It was so sad. Even the finest doctor in the town died of diarrhea. The vine felt sorry for what happened.

Vine: Hmm... I hate myself! The deadly poison I was born with is causing great disaster and sadness in the valley of Choctaw. Please! Someone take my poison and use it for good!!

Narrator 1: The small, weak creatures gathered and thought that this was their chance to live a different life! Then they went to get the poison from the vine.

Vine: Come! I shall give my poison to the weak and abused. Gather around! I will stop this disaster at once!

(Rattle Snake enters)

Rattle Snake: I could also sssSS.... take a good measure of your poison....ss..

Vine: You may, but use them wisely

Rattle Snake: Thank you.. sss. Before I strike at people. I shell warn them with Intesha Intesha Intesh (With shaker).... They need to know that they are too close ssss....

(Exits with rt rt rt rt rattle and the Wasp enters)

Wasp: Ca.. Ca... Can I take some of your poison?? (in a nervous voice) I hate to be crushed by the human. They treat me like a fly! With that poison, I will be able to defend myself from great danger!

Vine: hmm... I wouldn't like anyone to be hurt, however, if human treat you that way, you may defend your self too.

Wasp: S... S... So... Can I take a small part of your poison?

Vine: Yes you may, but use it wisely, and then I shall give it to your ancestors too.

(Wasp flies away and goes to a person who is sitting on a chair, dozing off)

Person: ARGH!! You idiot wasp!

(He tries to crush the wasp with a killing fly thing however the wasp stings him)

Person: Ouch! When did wasp have needles in their butt!

(Wasp goes back to the vine)

Vine: I believe you used your poison wisely... Your wish is granted.

(Wasp leaves with a hurray then the bee enters with the "Imma Bee" song)

Bee: Yo! Wassup! Your the newbie who got here. Is it true you have the deadly poison??

Vine: Yes, and I shall give it to the weak since others can use it for good.

Bee: Then I can use some of your poison thing bro~ Me and my bros all get like chased by the ugly humans.

Vine: I shall also give you some part of my poison, but it will kill you the first time you use it.

Bee: Cuz I'm a bee?

Vine: Yeah...

Bee: Thanks any way...

(Bee calls bee guys saying, "Yeah, I got the poison. You owe me" and exit with the song, "Imma bee")

Water Moccasin enters...

Water Moccasin: Ssssss.... I sss...hal take some of your poison as well, for my protection like when people step on me... I will stick the poison in my mouth and ssss... Sting them if they ignore my warning.

Vine: I see your strong muscles but the poison shall also protect you.

Water Moccasin: Thank you, sssS... Vine...

(Water Moccasin exits)

Vine: I'm so relieved! I gave up all my poison! Let mother nature allow those living creatures to use my poison wisely.

(All exit and come again)

Narrator 2: After giving all the poison away, the vine spread beautiful black rose along the river. The weak and the unprotected creatures were now more defended and the Valley of Choctaw was more peaceful than ever.

Choctaw Kid 3: Oh!! I can take a bath now!

Choctaw Kid 4 (1 or 2): Jump in!

Narrator 2: From then on, people learnt that even the smallest creatures will hurt them when the people were foolish enough to underestimate them. And the people of the Valley of Choctaw lived (Everyone says it) HAPPILY EVER AFTER!
